

Come and meet Max Potential young adults

By LAUREN STANFORD Aug. 1, 2014, 4 a.m.

Young adult Lachlan Sharp presents his book at Connect Group 2 in June. Lachlan will have his book on show at the Max Potential Showcase this afternoon.

Come one, come all to the 2014 Max Potential Showcase this afternoon (Friday, August 1) at Club Mudgee.

The afternoon event will give community members, parents, possible future young adults, teachers, and coaches the chance to meet the 2014 Max Potential young adults and find out what they've been up to and what they've achieved over the past 22 weeks.

Club Mudgee CEO Maureen Hutchison said she was extremely excited about the showcase and was looking forward to helping reinforce how valuable this type of leadership program is to the local community. "I look forward to seeing the results of the individual young adult community service projects this afternoon. I know they will be worthy of receiving their Certificate 1 in Active Volunteering after all their hard work," she said.

Amelia, Holly, Daniel, Jacinta, Lachlan, Thomas, Ellie, Russell, Abbie, Josiah, Kaitlyn, Aimey, Olivia, Brea, and Lucy will each have their own table, decorated to showcase their Max Potential journey to these in attendance. Look out for the electrical appliances at each station and find out how they represent each young adults and their journey through the mentoring program. There will be speeches from Max Potential coordinators Fiona Brown and Carol Cockerill-Wright about the positive changes they have seen in the 2014 young adults, and each of the young adults themselves will speak about the program and what it has meant for them.

Mrs Hutchison said the showcase was the perfect time to call by the Club and witness the results of the projects these 13 young adults have initiated in the local community.

The 2014 Max Potential Showcase will get underway in the Club Mudgee auditorium from 3pm on Friday, August 1 (today). There will be light refreshments until 3.30pm when the showcase will officially begin. Showcase will go until 5pm and everyone is welcome to come along and say hello.